Dear Friends,

The Department of Commerce, Shri Sant Damaji Mahavidyalaya, Mangalwedha feels privileged to invite you, to participate in One Day International Conference on "New Paradigms of Commerce And Management: Opportunities And Challenges"

We cordially invite the faculties, research scholars and students of Commerce and Management in order to enhance the research skill and new ideas and issues in the concerned subject.

Concept Note

Commerce and management education underwent a sea change in various issues, processes associated with E-commerce have changed and evolved from traditional approaches. E-commerce is one of the most important features to have emerged from the presence of the internet. It allows people to exchange goods with low time or distance barriers. E-commerce creates new opportunities; meanwhile, it also presents new challenges in terms of supplying chain management, particularly regarding the packaging system.

New paradigms shift in focus particular areas which mark E-commerce out as an area of distinct academic interest with its own set of problems, in addition and complementing concerns of the more traditional business agenda, specifically will look at the following: changes in the processes involved in E-commerce; new ways of working and management practice; how new technology is changing our conception and process of these tasks and of social norms.

Dear Friends,

The Department of English, Shri Sant Damaji Mahavidyalaya, Mangalwedha feels privileged to invite you, to participate in a One Day International Conference on "Rebuilding Humanities in Post-Covid Scenario"

We cordially invite the faculties, research scholars and students of English Language in order to enhance the research skills and new ideas and initiatives in the concerned subject.

Concept Note:

Education is undoubtedly the most powerful weapon to combat all evils, diseases and movements. With the help of scientific knowledge, we are able to fight or even eradicate diseases. The emergence of Corona (Covid-19) has challenged the quality of education, science, technology, medical field and even society. Due to the influence of Covid-19, we have developed the new way of life. With the hard efforts of the scientists, we have developed the vaccine against Covid-19. It is being tested to be born for all.

The major challenge is how to analyze the Post-Covid scenario. There is also need for greater attention to increase public confidence to facilitate the recovery. Building trust will require a delicate balance between showing strong leadership and humility acknowledging that we learn as we progress showcasing our best results, expressing both their knowledge and skills.
